How will the candidates be evaluated on October 6?

Unlike the faculty Policy Evaluation Panel, the student Policy Evaluation Panel is free to participate in voting on mobile without being tied to a specific space. The statements and pledges for each candidate can be found at the SNU portal mySNU (upper right) and Campaigning for Preliminary Candidates for President in the SNU mobile app (upper left). The policy evaluation site can be watched online (YouTube) or in real time in the second floor lounge of the student center (Bldg.#63), the second floor of the Bldg.#153 Room 210, the Gaon Hall in Bldg.#900, and the auditorium on the sixth floor of the Graduate School of Dentistry.

When the policy evaluation vote begins, individual URLs through the Kevoting system are sent by text message. You can participate in the evaluation by accessing the URL and going through the authentication process. Voting is conducted for each evaluation category, and only one candidate is voted for each evaluation category.

Policy evaluation is a very important process.

The result of the Policy evaluation by Policy Evaluation Panel will be 100% reflected to determine the three final candidates for the president. Since it is so important, the policy Evaluation Panel will evaluate on behalf of the members of the faculty, employees, and students of Seoul National University after "listening to all" to the presentation of each preliminary candidate. Accordingly, the school designated October 6 as an autonomous holiday for the second semester of the 2022 school year to encourage participation in policy evaluation. If a student who participated in the policy evaluation submits a policy evaluation vote confirmation certificate, attendance can be recognized. Don't miss the precious rights of your school members!
